CPD Overview

Samuel Heath is dedicated to the creation of high quality taps, showers, bathroom accessories and door and window fittings, including Perko, Perkomatic and Powermatic concealed door closers.

Founded in 1820, the company designs and manufactures all of its products at its Birmingham factory, combining the traditional skills of the craftsman with the latest in manufacturing technology.

This in-house production and engineering expertise facilitates complete control over the quality and performance of its products.

All products are backed by dedicated specifier support services, which include expert technical advice.

Samuel Heath also offers two RIBA-approved CPD presentations:-

Brass Manufacturing Less Ordinary aims to enhance knowledge and awareness of contemporary methods of manufacturing brass products.

Door Closers: An Open and Shut Case covers the factors involved in the specification of door closers, with emphasis on the use of concealed door closers.

The company has three main websites:

samuel-heath.co.uk is the main company website and features all Samuel Heath products.

concealeddoorclosers.com is a dedicated website for the company's renowned range of jamb-mounted, concealed door closers.

landmark-collection.co.uk is a microsite for the company's Bauhaus-inspired Landmark Collection of bathroom fittings.
