CPD Overview

Liquasil is a UK-based manufacturer of:

Owned by Chartered Building Surveyors, Liquasil's systems are designed to provide total confidence to the professional specifier with product warranties lasting up to 25 years.

Free service to specifiers: Our team of building surveyors can provide desktop appraisals based on your photographs and for larger projects, will visit site with you to assist with your roof surveys, assuming that safe access is provided. This enables us to create site-specific specifications to account for unique characteristics or specific defects that might be present.
